Extra Eggs Extra Profits

Every sack of Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash contains the correctly balanced feed to make hens lay most eggs. You get biggest profits out of Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash.

The base of Quaker Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash is pure oatmeal. This, with many other important ingredients, provides the right amounts of protein and carbohydrates which every money-making hen must have. Bone meal and calcium carbonate supply the minerals so necessary for heavy egg production. Those elements which the hen reproduces in eggs are fully restored to her. The Cod Liver Meal in Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash replaces missing sunlight during winter months, and its vitamines make all ingredients do better work.

Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash is finely ground. Easily digested. No waste. Hens eat it all. Gives you more eggs, bigger and stronger-shelled eggs, and of more uniform size. Therefore, it is the most economical feed you can buy. Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash and Ful-O-Pep Scratch Grains form the ideal combination to make heavy layers. Ask your dealer for them.

THE NEW FORD

"The new Ford car is now on display in the larger centres of population," said Mr. Anderson, local Ford dealer, in commenting on the recent announcement of an advance showing of the New Car. "The big factories at Ford, Ontario, are beginning to produce cars in limited number, but they have not yet swung into the enormous volume of production that will be necessary to satisfy the demand for this extraordinary car, and I expect that it will be a few days yet before we have a car for display in our own town.

"In the meantime," he continued, "I have secured large display pictures showing each of the six passenger models—the Tudor Sedan, Fordor Sedan, Coupe, Sport Coupe, Phaeton, and Roadster—and a supply of catalogues giving full specifications on the car, and am showing these in my showroom. They afford an idea of the splendid consequence of the Ford company's long and enormous task in designing and perfecting the new car."

"I have ridden in the car and driven it," said Mr. Anderson, referring to his visit to the branch of the Ford Motor Company at Toronto, "and it surpasses my greatest expectations in every regard."

Mr. Anderson describes the new car as a car of handsome appearance available in a wide range of color combinations, combining all the best features of contemporary car design irrespective of price and incorporating a number of features which have never before been available. "It offers great power, comfort, high speed, flexibility, unusual getaway, remarkable roadability, economical operation and rugged, simplified construction. It is a car of the highest quality through and through," he said.

The lines of the new Ford are distinctive according to Mr. Anderson. A wheelbase of 103½ inches, lower suspension, improved lines, gracefully contoured one-piece fenders command attention and suggest speed and stability. But it is in performance that it is most striking. It is capable of more than 60 miles per hour for hours on end, and will hold that speed without discomfort to passengers and without injury to the mechanism. It accelerates at a terrific pace and can be made to literally leap forward when the clutch is engaged. It has been driven at more than 40 miles per hour in intermediate gear. It manoeuvres with great ease, holds the roughest roads at speed, holds on sharp unbanked curves at 45 miles per hour and has a turning radius of only 17 feet.

Bodies of the new Ford car are of all-steel construction, and a new type of one-piece steel-spoke wheel employing a drop centre tire and eliminating the old fashioned rim and rim clamps is employed. The transmission is selective sliding gear with three forward speeds and one reverse, and the clutch is of a plate multiple dry-disc design, patterned after the famous Lincoln clutch. Rear axle is of the three-quarter floating design which employs the axle shafts for driving only and does not require them to carry the weight of the car. Final drive is by spiral bevel gear permanently adjusted and noiseless.

Full torque tube drive is used and relieves the springs of all starting and stopping strains. Four-wheel, internal expanding, mechanically actuated bre employed. Throughout the design, ease and quietness of operation, great strength and accessibility of all parts, and economical operation have been kept in mind. According to Mr. Anderson, the purpose back of the new car is to provide a small car which will incorporate all light car advantages with the features of comfort, speed and safety hitherto regarded as peculiar to heavy and expensive machines.

The four-cylinder powerplant of the new Ford developes 40 horse-power at 2200 revolutions. The S. A. E. rating for license purposes is 24.03 h.p. This great power has been effected without sacrifice of economy and the new car will give 30 or more miles to the gallon, Mr. Anderson says. Through use of a larger cylinder bore and shorter stroke, by static and dynamic balancing of flywheel and crankshaft and by the use of light reciprocating parts and careful balancing of all parts the new motor is practically vibrationless.

The Model A Ford motor incorporates a number of unusual features of design which have been born of years of experiment. Most of these features make for long life, simplified service and more economical maintenance. Lubrication is a combination of pump and splash systems while cooling combines theremo-syphon and pump circulation of water. The action of the water pump is so desifned that it comes into effect after the motor has reached the ideal temperature for engine performance, and overcooling at low engine speeds or in cold weather is thus avoided. The motor itself is essentially a low-speed motor, developing its maximum power at 2200 r. p. m. This is consistent with established Ford practice which always has aimed at securing a minimum amount of piston travel per mile of road travel, with a resultant minimum of strain and wear on moving parts.

The motor is set in the frame at an angle of 3½ degrees which affords practically a straight-line drive to the rear axle. The clutch comprises four driving and five driven discs which operate without lubrication. A feature of the clutch is that on disengagement it immediately and completely neutralizes the driven discs with the result that the gearshift lever may be snapped across immediately without fear of clashing gears. Clutches of this type have hitherto been peculiar to high-priced cars.

The transmission, Mr. Anderson says, departs from conventional light car practice in the use of ball and roller bearings instead of bushings. These bearings make for more satisfactory operation, smoother performance and longer life. The steering gear also is unique in the light car field, being of the irreversible worm and sector type with the worm carried in ball bearings. Front-end weight of the car also is carried on roller bearings which are placed at the top of the spindle bolts, resulting in unusual steering ease.

Transverse semi-elliptic springs are used, and for it Ford engineers claim the following advantages: that the springs contact with the frame at only one point and that at the centre line of the chassis with the result that the chassis is subjected to no twisting strains even on the worst roads; that it permits full torque tube drive; that it reduces unsprung weight to a minimum and improves riding qualities; that the springs have only their natural function of absorbing road shocks to perform; and that danger of uneven application of front wheel brakes is avoided because the front axle is held rigidly at right angles to the centre line of the chassis and these is no possibility of uneven tension upon brake rods.

The brakes are of special Ford design and operate on the inner surface of substantial steel drums. All brake parts are cadmium plated as a precaution against rust and each brake is instantaneously adjustable through manipulation of a small adjusting stud on the exterior of each brake drum. Brake pedal or hand lever will apply all four brakes simultaneously. Sixty per cent of the braking effort is applied to the rear wheels and forty per cent to the front wheels.

The new Ford car is completely equipped with five steel spoke wheels, Alemite-Zerk chassis lubrication, four hydraulic shock absorbers, speedometer, windshield wiper, rear-view mirror, remote door-latch controls, etc. There are six body models: Tudor, Fordor, Phateon, Coupe, Sport Coupe, Sport Roadster, each available in a number of color options. Mr. Anderson expects to have Tudor and Phaeton models on display here soon.

Famous Kings

"BLUFF KING HAL" is the ... of the English people. He lived ... all manly sports, and in addition was a scholar of wide attainments.
Henry's strength was also his weakness. He was famous as a bold, self-willed monarch...

THE "EMPEROR" confers upon you powers undreamed of by any king of old and not surpassed by any reigning monarch. You, too, can command the talent of the hour and enjoy entertainment that would delight a royal audience.

The "Emperor" is a six tube stabilized tuned radio frequency receiver with two stages of tuned radio frequency, detector, and three stages of a newly developed type of audio frequency.

It is specially adapted for use with "B" battery eliminator but will work equally well with dry "B" Batteries. Each transformer coil is completely shielded in copper which eliminates all interference and ensures knife edged selectivity.

The "Emperor" Console is the last word in cabinet design and is a remarkably handsome piece of furniture. It has separate compartments for all accessories including loud speaker.

A demonstration will enlist you under the banner of the King!

Price, including Built-in Loud Speaker but without accessories, $185.00 Table Model, $150.00.

No More Pretty Shoes—for Dorothy

Dorothy peeps shyly at you through a tangle of pretty dark curls. If you are a man, she is hoping against hope that you might be her Daddy, because he used to come and see her and bring her pretty shoes, but he doesn't come any more.

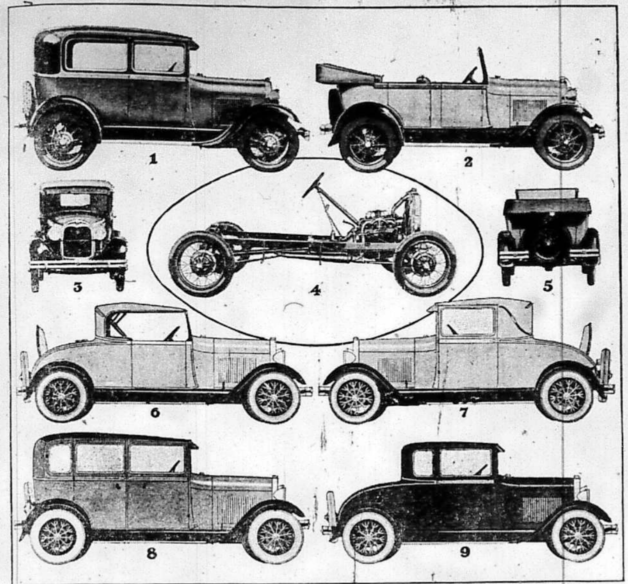

Dorothy cannot understand why. If you are a lady she knows you don't belong to her because the nurse told her her mother died years ago. It's hard for a wee girl of five to understand all this, and why she shouldn't have the joys that other little girls have, and, above all, why she must be in the tiresome bed so much.

But the kindly doctors and nurses at the Queen Mary Hospital are patient with helpless little Dorothy and hope to fight off the dreaded consumption, and make her sound and well.

Wouldn't you like to help in this work? Your gift to the Hospital will be gratefully received.

Contributions may be sent to W. A. Charlton, President, 223 College Street, Toronto 2, Ontario.

DECEMBER ROD AND GUN

Featuring several splendid stories of outdoor life as well as numerous interesting articles on sporting subjects, the December issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News, Canadian sporting magazine has just been published. Among the well told stories of hunting trips is an especially good one of a trip in the Rocky Mountains after big horn sheep and goat by George H. Charls.

In addition to the full list of other articles, the regular departments on guns and ammunition by C. S. Landis, Fishing Notes, edited by G. P. Sladen, Outdoor Talk by W. C. Motley, Kennel Notes by C. G. Hopton and Dr. L. E. L. Taylor and Along the Trap Line by M. U. Bates, all contain most useful information with regard to their special fields.

Canadian Silver Fox News section also contains valuable material with regard to the growing industry and informative articles.

Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

An American boxes once went to Britain to look for a remunerative fight. "Well, the first thing you must do is to find a manager," was the advice immediately offered to him. The bruiser smiled faintly. "Oh, I guess I'm all right there," he said, "I've brought the wife along with me."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Harriette Tompkins.

The subject of this sketch came to her grave "in a full age like a shock of corn in his season", being ninety-seven years and five months of age. Until a very short time before her death she maintained a good degree of both bodily and mental vigor. Even after she had become too poorly to continue about the house, and was confined to her bed, her mind continued clear. It was her delight to tell to all who visited her of the goodness of God to her and testify to her full trust in her Saviour to whom she had given her heart eighty years before. Mrs. Tompkins' maiden name was Pearson. She was born in England in 1830, and was one of a large family of whom only one brother, George Pearson, of Deseronto, survives, he being ten years younger. Mrs. Tompkins lived in the reigns of four sovereigns, viz., William IV., Queen Victoria, Edward VII. and George V. She came to Canada when four years old with her parents, who settled first in Napanee, on Piety Hill. Her husband, the late Joseph Tompkins, came from St. Johns, N.B. After their marriage they settled in Camden, where she lived until her death. Her husband pre-deceased her forty-two years ago. Since then she has made her home with her son, Frank, near Newburgh. A few weeks ago Mrs. Tompkins began to fail, and through weakness continued to remain in bed until quietly on Sunday morning, the 13th inst., she was not for God took her. Since the death of Mrs. Frank Tompkins, she was a mother to Kenneth, Bessie and Earl. During her last illness affectionate return in attentions was made to her by Mrs. Ruttan, her daughter, and Bessie, her granddaughter.

The funeral service was held at her late residence, and conducted by the Rev. T. H. P. Andersan, her Pastor, from Job 5 : 26, the passage "Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like a shock of corn in his season". Mr. Anderson showed that for the faithful children death crowns life. It is life's perfect rounding out and its earthy completion. There was a very large gathering of friends at the service, for Mrs. Tompkins has been held in very high regard and affection by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her, besides her son, Frank, and his children, Bessie and Earl, at home; three other children, Charles, of Watertown, N.Y.; John A., of Bath, and Mrs. Ruttan, of Wilton. In addition to these four children, she leaves twenty-one grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren. Interment was in Newburgh cemetery.

Peter Fraser Carscallen.

A life that was singularly in all the characteristics that may adorn a Christian life came to an earthly close in the death of Peter F. Carscallen, of Tamworth, at the advanced age of ninety-three years.

He was born on October 8th, 1834, in the Township of Camden, came to Sheffield in the early forties, where he spent the remainder of his life.

Under the ministry of Rev. A. D. Traveller, he was born into the Kingdom of God. He was Superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School for twenty-five years, anw was class leader for over fifty years. His wife, Jane Elizabeth Perry, daughter of the late Ebenezar Perry, of Tamworth, predeceased him twenty-one years ago. Two sons also predeceased him, James in 1909, and Edward in 1912. He leaves to mourn him, two sons and three daughters, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

He was appointed Bailiff in 1860 by Judge McKenzie, which office he held for 62 years, resigning in 1922. Was Coroner for 63 years, and Township Collector for 26 years. He lived under four soverigns, William IV., Victoria, Edward and George.

He will be greatly missed both in country and in village by his numerous friends.

An oil painting by Teddy Frizzell, a member of the Canadian Pacific Railway staff here, is receiving considerable favorable comment and and the painter is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the very creditable work. The painting portrays an evening scene in Holland. On the shore a green windmill overlooks a body of water, which reflects the golden rays of the setting sun. A pathway gently winds its way from the mill through a garden of red and yellow tulips. In the distance a low range of hills is silhouetted against the crimson sunset. The picture has been entitled "The Green Mill Garden".

Mr. Frizzell has several other paintings to his credit and has shown remarkable ability in both painting and sketching. His globe picture outlining the C. P. R. rail and boat routes, which was a feature of last year's C.P.R. dance, was an excellent sample of his ability along another line of art.

Mr. Teddy Frizzell was a former Napanee boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Frizzell, and his many friends in Napanee will be glad to hear of his ability as an artist.

That's what the girls say about you fellows that need a few more pounds of good solid flesh and have never tried McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

A New Jersey Man was just as bad as you, but now he's got what the girls call a manly figure—he needed 28 more pounds and thanks to McCoy's he got them in just a couple of months.

McCoy takes all the risk — Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets or 2 one dollar boxes, any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

Ask Wallace's Drug Store or any good druggist.

"Daddy," said his little daughter as they watched an airplane, "do you think they will ever get to heaven flying away up like that?"

"Not by going away up, my dear," was his reply, "they are more likely to do it by coming down."

240 Miles of Bus Tickets.

With the coming of the new six-wheeled, covered-topped, pneumatic-tyred buses to be placed on the London streets by the "Public" Omnibus Company—an association of the more important "pirate" companies—time-saving ticket machines will be introduced.

The machine makes its tickets as it goes along. A disc on the top of the machine turned to the required fare, followed by the pressing of a knob at the side, delivers the ticket automatically punched and numbered. The number of the tickets issued and the amount of money taken is registered by a patent device on the back of the machine.

When the conductor goes out at the beginning of the day his machine will be packed tight with a roll of 1,400 tickets—or, at least, the material capable of making them. The saving of time will be appreciated when it is remembered how many hundreds of thousands of persons use London buses during the day.

More than 1,600 million tickets, weighing 725 tons, are issued annually by the L.G.O.C. If all the tickets issued in one day by all the London companies were placed end to end they would reach 240 miles.

World's Tiniest Carpet.

Stated to be the smallest in the world, a wonderful miniature Indian carpet, 34 inches long and 21 inches wide, has been presented to the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington, England.

Richest City In Britain.

Judging by rateable value, Glasgow heads the list as the richest city in Britain, followed by Westminster, the City of London, Liverpool, Manchester, and Birmingham.

One In Twenty Married.

Of the thousands of women who have passed through Oxford University during the last seven years, only one in twenty has since married.

Women's Feet.

The feet of Englishwomen are wider than those of Americans, but narrower than those of the women of Scotland.

Roads In Britain.

There are 152,735 miles of roads in Great Britain.

There are over 3,000,000 hens in British Columbia.

STORIES OF LEVERHULME

THIS GROCER'S BOY WASHED THE WORLD.

Had a Dominant Personality, Lofty Aims and Ambitions, Genius, and a Passion for Construction and Expansion—A Good Citizen.

When William Hesketh Lever decided, in 1894, to turn his soap-manufacturing business into a limited liability company, he resolved that the transactions should put no undue risk upon the shoulders of the public, and he accordingly consulted a London company promoter.

"Well," said that adviser, "what does it matter what happens once you have the money?"

Without a word, Lever gathered up his papers and departed.

This was typical of the man who was later to become the world's greatest soap-king. He had a dominant personality, lofty aims and ambitions, genius, a passion for construction and expansion, good citizenship, level-headedness, and a knack for getting hold of the right thing and developing it. Who would not get on and rise to great heights with all these assets? The result is the gigantic and flourishing business, with its tens of thousands of happy, well-paid workers, that the soap-king left behind him.

These sidelights on a great worker's character can be read in the memoir the present Lord Leverhulme has just published, "Viscount Leverhulme—by his Son."

Coming from humble parents—his father was a grocer in a small way—young Lever found his education at a small and unassuming school, had a good, and at the same time rigorous, upbringing, left school at sixteen and entered his father's business. James Lever gave his son a thorough and disciplined grounding in every operation connected with his trade. At seven in the morning he was taking down shutters, tidying up the premises, and getting things ready for his father's arrival a little later. This early discipline remained with William Lever all his life, and it is doubtful if the father, strict though he was, was a more rigorous master to the son than the son was to himself in later life.

The first task young Lever had to learn was the cutting and wrapping of soap. Cartons, of which he was later to become the originator, were then unknown, and the wholesaler bought his soap in "endless" bars. Lever cut them. Thence he passed to the breaking of lump sugar, and so on, right through the mill.

Soon, with a good working knowledge of the counter, he passed to the office. All the time he was reading vigorously in the evenings, and he never had a slack moment from one day's end to the other. He studied shorthand and nature, swam, carpentered, and generally flung himself into life with a zest and will not usual in the average boy. He succeeded with a vengeance.

By 1884, his thirty-third year, with that tireless restlessness that characterized him throughout life, looked around for a new outlet for his business acumen. It was then that he thought of making soap. Sunlight Soap saw the light of day that very year.

At first it was made by several firms, but when these firms, finding the Lever order soaring, put their prices up. Lever decided to manufacture for himself with his father's financial help.

Five months were given to careful experiments, and at the end of that time Sunlight Soap, practically as good as the kind we buy to-day, was put on the market. Its success was immediate.

Lever left the grocery business to devote himself to soap. In 1885 the output of his Warrington factory was 20 tons weekly. A year later it had reached 250 tons a week, and by the end of the following year, 450 tons. Then Lever moved to the Cheshire side of the Mersey and founded Port Sunlight.

Whilst it was being built, he hustled across to America to study their selling and advertising methods, and arrange for agencies. Then he went on to Canada, South Africa, and the Continent. In 1894 he turned his business into a limited liability company, and from then on his activties seem mainly to consist of acquiring other businesses, sometimes sadly moribund, merging them into the original, and making the new concern boom.

Lever was created a baronet in 1911, raised to the peerage in 1917, and created viscount in 1922.

He made a great many attempts before he succeeded in getting a seat in Parliament. His first fight was with Lord Bury at Birkenhead, in 1892, when he reduced that peer's majority by one half. Two years later Lord Bury succeeded to the peerage, and Lever fought again, this time being defeated by the narrow margin of 106. The margin against him in his next contest was 204 votes in the same constituency. Then Lever's successful opponent went to the South African War, and for that reason Lever refused to oppose him at the next general election, but went away and fought the Wirral Division of Cheshire, his native constituency, losing the fight once again but heavily reducing the Conservative majority.

In the end the fighting, but by now somewhat flagging, Liberal got in by what was almost an accident. He had decided that he would not stand again for Parliament, and another candidate was adopted in Wirral. On the eve of the election in 1906, this candidate withdrew, and Lever saw no alternative but again to accept nomination. He entered the lists and gained the seat.

Lord Leverhulme died in 1925, and was buried at Port Sunlight, the scene of his wonderful triumphs.

Toy-Land,
December 1st, 1927.

My Dear Boys and Girls:

Mrs. Santy has said that perhaps you might like to know how the reindeers are feeling. Well, thank you, they are feeling fine, and I hope you are all the same.

Dancer had a bit of ice in his hoof when we were taking some toys for the C.D.S.L. at Napanee to the station in a blizzard; and Blitzer, I am sorry to say kicked Grumper when they were standing side by side in the stable one morning.

They are quite well again now, thank you. I keep them exercised every day, and we hope to make a speed record round the world on Christmas Eve, December 24th, 1927.

Hoping you will be glad to receive this.

Yours very truly,

KLAPPER ZIPMAN.
Head Groom.
Reindeer Stables.

Xmas selections chosen early will be held until Xmas. if deposit is made at time of purchase.

A REAL BOOK OF WORDS.

Greatest Dictionary Is Nearly Complete After 55 Years' Work.

So might not think that there is anything very romantic about a dictionary, says a writer in Answers, and if you were looking for an interesting book it is far more likely that you would invest in a novel or book of travel.

But there is a far more poignant story behind "The New English Dictionary," which will be shortly placed on the market, than could ever be associated with a mere figment of a writer's brain.

This wonderful work was begun some fifty-three years ago by Sir James Murray, when he was headmaster of Mill Hill School; when he died it was the general opinion that he had worked himself to death trying to complete the labor to which he had given practically his whole life. But, fortunately, he had a wife who was almost as interested in the progress of the dictionary as was Sir James, and it is partly owing to her efforts that it is now near to completion.

Something of the colossal magnitude of the task may be realized from the fact that, before any work was done at all on the actual book, five million quotations were collected, and a huge number of books had to be read through, including many published before A.D. 1600.

So many were the books that had to be kept handy and the quantity of correspondence that it was necessary to file for reference, that Dr. Murray had to erect a special building in the grounds of his Oxford house.

It is said that the word "of" was one of the hardest words to deal with, since no one has ever compiled references to it before. Of those scholars who helped Sir James Murray in the earliest stages of the work, only two survive, both clergymen and both Scots.

PARADISE FISH.

Male Would Kill Female to Prevent Her Eating Eggs.

One of the marvels of nature is being enacted in a tiny tank containing a pair of fantastic Paradise Fish. They are natives of the Far East, but many are kept as pets and bred in England, writes A. E. Hodge, F.Z.S., in Tit-Bits

With its expansive fins—deep indigo blue, white-edged and enlivened with red — spread out like the crimson trailing tail, the male is momentarily growing more brilliant, his crimson stripes turning fiery red and the blue intensifying in hue, whilst gold deepens to copper.

The cause of his excitement is the amorous actions of his mate, who, hitherto avoiding his presence, is now openly approaching him. In anticipation of these overtures, he has previously formed, in an open space between floating leaves, a fairy nest of air bubbles, each of which he has coated with a secretion so that they cling together and do not burst.

This floating nest is quite compact and rises slightly above the water. As the female eggs are under the discharges her eggs, which, being lighter than water, rise directly into the "nursery," being fertilized by the male in their journey upwards. The male is watching operations, and should an egg fall to come to rest within the nest he grabs it in his mouth and places it there. Later on he will take entire charge of the nursery, replenishing and aerating it and re-arranging the eggs when necessary.

He will have lost his mate by that time, for if allowed to remain in the tank she would probably devour the precious eggs, or, in any case, the male would kill her to prevent the possibility of such "blighted hopes."

Muskrat Farm In Nova Scotia.

A muskrat farm of thirty acres is being established at Smiley's Lake, N.S., about half a mile from Stillwater station on the Dominion Atlantic Railway. One acre can ranch 1,400 muskrats.

The Stillwater Lake district is well adapted for ranching and already a mink ranch having $1,500 worth of stock is doing well. One or Ellerhouse has stock valued at $1,000 and another is being started.

Healthiest Country In the World.

Statistics prove New Zealand's claim to be the healthiest country in the world. The average expectation of life in that country for men is 62 ¾ years and for women 62 years. In England and Wales the figures are 56.58 years for men and 60.47 years for women.

Artificial Silk From Redwood Tree.

Artificial silk is now being made from the bark of the giant redwood tree, and it is possible to utilize practically every fibre of the tree. Until the present time the bark was considered a waste product.

Drains Into Gulf of Mexico.

The Milk river, in Southern Alberta, which crosses the International boundary and empties into the Missouri river, which empties into the Mississippi, drains into the Gulf of Mexico.

St. John, N.B., Harbor Facilities.

Plans for the first unit in the enlarged harbor facilities for St. John will include four new steamship berths and an elevator of 2,000,000 bushel capacity. They will be located on the western side of the harbor.

Radio Perfected

When radio broadcasting was instituted by Westinghouse as a means of giving to the world its universal benefits and pleasures, the goal of battery-less operation was in full view.

The foremost vacuum tube engineers on the continent have devoted their scientific knowledge and experience to this end and for over six years in Westinghouse laboratories, and at last have perfected a tube which operates directly from the light socket.

Now you can own either a six tube or six tube Westinghouse receiver that costs less to buy and less to operate than has ever been offered before.

In them you will find excellence of tone, high selectivity—extreme distance and full volume, combined with simplicity of operation, pleasing design and the guarantee of satisfaction by the Pioneers of Radio.

These new models are on display in our store. Let us give you a demonstration in your home without cost or obligation.

WISE AND {OTHERWISE

Publisher (to author)—You'll have to rewrite this novel, Mr. Scribbler, if you want it to sell. The Boston police have positively refused to suppress it.

Whether the corn be of old or new growth, it must yield to Holloway's Corn Remover.

Doris—I can't stand Jack any more, Jane—Why?

Doris—Why, last night I had to tell him to behave.

Jane—Oh! And he did, eh?

Many mothers have reacon to bless Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because it has relieved the little ones of suffering and made them healthy.

"Jim talks too much about himself."

"He claims that that is the way to make other people talk about you."

"Yes, but they won't say the same things you do."

For Rheumatic Pains. — The pains and aches of Sciatica and Rheumatism should be treated with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The soothing and healing properties of this famous remedy have been demonstrated for fifty years. Use it also for inflammatory pains, cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains, either in human beings or the lower animals.

"When I was your age," said the irate father to his six-year-old son, "I was glad to get dry bread to eat."

"You're much better off now you're living with us, aren't you, Daddy?" replied the son.

For Both House and Stable.—There is a good deal of similarity, physically speaking, between human beings and the lower animals. Both are subject to many ailments arising from inflammation and to all manner of cuts and bruises. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is an entirely reliable remedy for such ailments and mishaps in both human beings and the lower order of animals.

Curate (to Sunday School class) — "Where do little boys go to who don't put their collections in the box on Sundays?"

Tommy Jones (absent-mindedly) — "I generally save mine until Saturday, and go to a ball game."

Dust Causes Asthma. Even a little speck too small to see will lead to agonies which no words can describe. The walls of the breathing tubes contract and it seems as if the very life must pass. From this condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy brings the user to perfect rest. It relieves the passages and normal breathing is firmly established again. Hundreds of testimonials received annually prove its effectiveness.

Jack (at Boulogne, studying the heading of an official notice of the Department) — What does Pas de Calais mean, Ethel?

Ethel—Oh, I suppose it means nothing to do with Calais. I expect there's a great deal of jealousy between Calais and Boulogne. Rival ports, you know!

Miller's Worm Powders act mildly and without injury to the child, and there can be no doubt of their deadly effect upon worms. They have been in successful use for a long time and are recognized as a leading preparation for the purpose. They have proved their power in numberless cases and have given relief to many a sufferer, who, but for the good offices of this compound, would have continued weak and enfeebled.

During the visit of a warship to one of the Firth of Clyde's holiday resorts, a few of the local people set off in a rowing boat to visit the ship, which had not been "thrown open" to the public. An officer demanded to know who the visitors were. "Oh," replied one of the witty would-be inspectors, "just a few of the owners".

One of the minor sights of Berlin is a sculptured lion by Albert Wolff. An American girl, after seeing it wrote home: "The other day I took a walk in a pretty park called the Thiergarten and saw a handsome work of art. Anybody would know it was a lion, but they don't seem to know much natural history here, as they have marked this particular work 'A. Wolff'. Think of it! Such a thing could not happen at home. And just look at the spelling!"

DESERT CAMEL PATROL

Men of This Picturesque and Useful Body Have Lonely Jobs.

The South African Police Camel Patrol is a useful and picturesque body, writes Lawrence G. Green in the London Daily Mail, and plays an important part in maintaining law and order among the inhabitants of the wastes of the Kalahari Desert, a vast territory embraced in the Bechuanaland Protectorate.

The patrol members are lonely men, and in some way may be compared to the Mounted Police of this country.

Their "beat" includes nearly six thousand square miles of sandy, sun-dried country. They are policemen, wearing blue uniforms and carrying revolvers; yet arresting criminals forms the smallest part of their duty in the Kalahari.

They have to collect native taxes, inspect cattle to detect the dreaded rinderpest, report invading swarms of locusts, dip sheep, make meteorological observations, and compile voters' rolls in the isolated villages of the territory. But beyond an occasional stock theft there is little crime indeed.

Long and dangerous treks across the sand dunes of the Kalahari take up much of their time. Water-holes are hard to find in that sun-scorched land. A small desert melon called tsama grows after the rains, but there is no other fruit.

So each man setting out to a distant native village loads his camel with water-bags to last for fourteen days. He carries a rifle, not only to shoot game but because there are still little bands of wild Bushmen with poisoned arrows who occasionally attack a white man.

Blankets and a heavy overcoat are necessary, for the hot sand of the daytime becomes icecold at night. Meat and mealie meal, tea, milk, sugar, and a small stove complete the desert policeman's outfit.

For days he sits on his camel, plodding across the glaring yellow sand with his eyes and ears full of grit, without the slightest relief from the all-pervading heat. There are no trees, rivers, or pools in the Kalahari. But there is always the possibility of lying down on a scorpion at night.

The policeman may have to travel for a week to reach a single white man at some lonely outpost just because the Census Department requires a form to be filled in.

Camels used in the Kalahari come from the Sudan. The police are expected to cover forty miles a day in normal times. When great locust hordes are threatening to leave their breeding places in the Kalahari and descend on the rich farming districts of the Union the men of the camel patrol sometimes cover eighty miles or desert in twenty-four hours to bring the news to the nearest telegraph office.

DRILL YOUR EYES.

Should Be as Much a Habit as Daily Toothbrush Drill.

"People would have less trouble with the eyes if they would only realize that the eyes need exercise as much as the rest of the body," declared a beauty specialist recently. "Daily eye drill should be as much a habit as daily toothbrush drill.

"It is a good thing to prepare for the exercises by trying to express happiness with the eyes. This is a good mental suggestion, as it puts the mind in a pleasant mood.

"Here are three suitable exercises. Keep the head perfectly still and roll the eyes as far upwards as possible, then as far downwards. It is essential that all and the two other movements should be carried out slowly and without the slightest suspicion of jerkiness.

"Next, still keeping the head still, look to the right and then to the left. Finally, roll the eyes slowly in a right-hand direction, then to the left. Each exercise should be carried out five times at first, and the number gradually increased to ten.

"The exercises should be completed by the eye-bath, which in itself is a refreshment and tonic to tired eyes. The best bath for the eyes is a solution of boric acid and water, but some people prefer weak cold tea. A plain water bath is better than none at all."

Poetic Justice.

Poetic justice was meted out by the sheriff of Logan County, Ohio, when two prisoners attempted to escape. The prisoners are eating their meals for a few days with case knives equipped with saw blades. The men had stolen the knives from the jail kitchen and had converted them into saws to saw their way out, and by way of punishment they are using them in place of other table tools.

Correction.

A newly-appointed judge called a taxi in London, England, and instructed the driver to drive him to the Royal Courts of Justice.

"Royal Courts o' Justice?" queried the man.

"The Law Courts, man!" exclaimed the judge. "Don't you know the Law Courts?"

"Course I do," responded the driver, "but you called 'em Courts of Justice."

OLD SECRETS WE HAVE LOST.

Ancients Knew Some Things of Which We Are Still Ignorant.

In Egyptian tombs have been found pieces of a brilliant scarlet non-transparent glass, the composition of which has puzzled generations of scientists. In the fifteenth century the Chinese re-discovered the secret of this glass, but again the recipe was lost, to be refound by Sir Herbert Jackson, who allowed some of it before the Royal Institution.

If the ancients were ignorant of X-rays and wireless, it is beyond doubt that they knew some things of which we are still ignorant. For instance, they made paints and dyes that have lasted for centuries without losing their original brilliancy, and porcelain of a beauty we have never succeeded in equalling.

Yet there never was a time like the present when so many secrets of past times have been brought to light. Lanolin, made from the wool of sheep, was the favorite ointment of the ancient Greeks more than two thousand years ago. The secret of its preparation was lost for centuries, but rediscovered in the nineteenth century, and now the making of lanolin is a great industry.

The Romans had a liquid which, when used on the inner walls of a new house, dried them at once, but that secret was lost more than seven centuries ago.

It was rediscovered in 1908 by Inspector Simpson, of the Blackburn Fire Brigade, and when used on freshly plastered walls in new houses enables them to be papered at once.

Nero, whose book on glass was published in Florence in 1612, says—

"In the time of the Emperor Tiberius was invented a way of making glass malleable, a thing afterwards lost, and to this day what was then invented is there wrenown without doubt it would be more esteemed for its beauty and incorruptibility than silver or gold."

Unknown to Nero, the Persians still had the old secret, for in 1610 the Shah of Persia sent to Philip III. of Spain six glasses that would not break by being dropped, and of which the material was springy and flexible. But again the secret was lost and remained unknown until last year, when two Austrian scientists, after spending five years, produced a glass which they call organic glass. It is transparent, will not scratch, yet a plate of it can be bent with the fingers.

A small ball of this glass dropped on a stone rebounded like rubber. It would seem that this is the flexible glass of the ancients once more refound.

If this kind of glass can be produced economically, imagine what it will mean to motorists. We will have a perfectly transparent wind-screen from which there is no danger in case of accident.

The ancients used to shave themselves with bronze razors. They made a bronze or brass of tin and copper, which they hardened so that it took an edge like steel.

Some years ago a man named Dawson, a convict serving a sentence in an American prison, rediscovered a method of hardening copper, and was released so that he might work on this invention for a syndicate. But it is understood that the cost of his process was too great.

Terrible Twenty-Four.

Forty-five per cent. of the inmates of Sing-Sing prison are under twenty-five years of age, and the proportion of convicted offenders in New York State of similar age is sixty-three per cent. of the total.

In England statistics show a similar state of affairs, while the population of the convict prisons has fallen greatly in the past thirteen years, the Borstal Institutes and the reformatories are always full. The worst age for crime is from twenty-one to twenty-four.

There are still numbers of youngsters who are brought up in slums and get a bad start in life. About the age of sixteen these begin to get into trouble. Out of an average 100 out of 150 of these youngsters are sentenced to a month's imprisonment or less, but, as the authorities say, there is not a redeeming feature about the short sentence. If a boy is to go to prison at all he should be sent for at least six months, which is the least time that gives the authorities a chance to teach him how to make a living. The principal crime of these youths is theft, often with violence.

The average age of murderers is from twenty-five to thirty, and of burglars is rather greater, while forgery is a crime of middle life.

Lighting by Lightning.

A single lightning flash represents enough wasted electricity to light your home for forty years or more. On the average, one flash represents about thirty thousand kilowatt hours of electric power.

Two thousand thunderstorms are going on all the time throughout the world, and in their lightning flashes the earth is continually wasting more than four billion horse-power, nearly one thousand times more than all the electric power now generated.

Best Guard Against Influenza.

A regular, healthy life, avoiding excesses of all kinds, and taking as much outdoor exercise as possible, is recommended by Sir George Newman, the chief medical officer of the British Ministry of Health, as the best guard against influenza.

Bones of Prehistoric Men.

Bones of prehistoric men discovered in East Africa covered forty-one different types, but none of them was of what is known now as the negro type.

Luxuries Once But Necessities Now

PRACTICALLY any Canadian citizen may own today an automobile possessing elements of beauty, style, comfort and efficiency which no amount of wealth could have commanded a dozen years ago.

For the automobile industry has outgrown its original function as a supplier of transportation, and has in an amazingly short time, brought about the refinements which are exemplified in the present-day General Motors car.

Since its foundations first were laid sixty years ago, this institution has believed that every Canadian has a right to the best his country produces, has a right to satisfy his sense of beauty, his desire for comfort, his need for dependability.

General Motors has at its command the master minds of the industry. It has the finest automotive research laboratories and the greatest automobile proving grounds in the world, wherein have been pioneered and developed some of the industry's most revolutionary advances.

And General Motors has used its prosperity and success unstintingly in improving the quality and increasing the value of its products. . . .

It is thus that General Motors of Canada has played its part in translating once-inconceivable luxury into terms of every-day necessity. . . .

SAVE YOUR LIFE!

Horse-drawn vehicles (as well as motor vehicles) on the highway at night now MUST display a light. This new law is designed to prevent accident to occupants of horse-drawn vehicles as well as of motor cars.

You will provide for your own safety by obeying this law. Drivers of fast-moving vehicles have become accustomed to looking for lights on ALL vehicles at night. The danger of accident to horse-drawn vehicles without lights therefore is greater now than it was when lights were not compulsory. At this season, when nights are darker and longer, the hazard is increased.

The light on a horse-drawn vehicle must be placed on the left side in a conspicuous position. It must show white to the front and red to the rear. It must be clearly visible at a distance of at least 200 feet. Where vehicles carry inflammable materials or are structurally unsuitable for carrying lighted lamps the Department, by regulation, may permit the use of a reflector instead of a lamp.

$5.00 Fine

The penalty for failure to observe this law is a fine of $5.00. Motor traffic officers or city or town police will apprehend all who fail to comply.

CHURNING.

Some valuable hints on churning are given in a Dominion Department of Agriculture bulletin on Buttermaking on the Farm. In the first place all cream should be passed through a finely perforated tin strainer as it is being put into the churn. The churn should never be more than one half full and the operation will be completed in the shortest time when it is only one-third full. In churning the speed which gives the greatest concussion is most effective. If for any reason the butter is coming a little too fast it is advisable to add, just when the cream is breaking, some water with a little salt in it about two degrees colder than the cream. Common causes for cream churning too slow are too much cream in the churn and too low a temperature. The quality of the butter is considerably affected by the time of stopping the churning. The churn should be stopped when the granules are about the size of wheat or split peas. If they are too small many of them will go through the strainer into the buttermilk and cause a considerable loss. Over-churned butter will retain a large amount of buttermilk which will be difficult to remove in washing. The buttermilk should be drawn off as soon as the churning is completed. The bulletin, which deals with all phases of buttermaking, may be obtained from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchical asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS.

Feeney—Hawkins.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was held at St. Anthony's Church, Centreville, by Rev. Father Mea, on October 26th, 1927, at 9.30 o'clock, when he united in holy bonds of matrimony, Mary Ethel Hawkins, second youngest daughter of Mr. Edward Hawkins, and Thomas Feeney, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Feeney, Madoc.

The bride entered the Church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Mary Feeney, sister of the groom. Miss Celia Hawkins was bridesmaid, wearing a copper leaf crepe back satin trimmed with rhinestones, and hat to match. Mr. Joseph Feeney, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride was attractively attired in a gown of rose tan crepe back satin, trimmed with silk georgette, with satin shoes and hat to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome dinner set, to the bridesmaid a pearl rosary, to the organist a white gold bar pin, and to the groomsman a Duofold fountain pen.

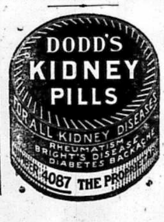

At the close of the ceremony they journeyed to the Campbell House, Napanee, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives. Shortly after they motored to Belleville, where they took the train for Toronto, Niagara, and points west, the bride travelling in an alderberry chiffon velvet dress with hat to match, and a fancy tweed coat with white ermine collar. She carried a beautiful blonde alligator pouch bag.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Feeney will reside near Madoc, where he is a prosperous young farmer.

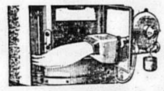

BATH

Mrs. Geo. Stevenson, of Windsor, Miss Margaret Forester, of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Miss Mary Kellar, of Guelph, have been called home, owing to the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. John Forester.—The dance held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16th, under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church, was a decided success. Everett Stevens' Orchestra was in attendance.—The bazaar, dinner and play put on under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church, on Friday afternoon and evening, Nov. 18th last, was also a success. The play was put on by Belleville talent, and entitled "Peg O' My Heart".—Mr. and Mrs. Donald White and family, who have spent the summer at Stella, have returned to their home here.—Mr. Mark Rowse, who has been quite ill, is somewhat improved.—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hall and Newell Rowse, of Oshawa, spent the week end at Mark Rowse's.—Mrs. F. G. Calver, accompanied by Mrs. John Brown, of Stella, and Mr. R. McKinnon and son, of Kingston, motored to Oxenden, Wiarton and Allenford, Ontario, to visit friends.—The death occurred suddenly on Tuesday evening of an aged and highly respected resident, in the person of Mr. William Rose, after a couple of days' illness, at the age of 94 years. The funeral was held from his late residence to St. John's Church, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rector, Rev. W. G. Swayne, officiated, assisted by the Rev. A. L. McTear, of Wellington. The remains were interred in St. John's cemetery. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, two sons, Wm., of St. Catherines, and Harvey, of Oshawa; and two daughters, Mrs. Bernard Brown, of Sandhurst, Ont., and Miss Margaret, at home. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement.—Among those from out of town who attended the funeral of the late Mr. Rose were his sons, William and Harvey, also Mrs. Caton, of Napanee, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Caton, of Westbrooke.

Presentation and Address

On Friday evening, November 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milsap and family were taken by surprise, when about sixty of their friends and neighbours gathered together to spend one more pleasant evening in their old home at Desmond, before their departure to their new home in Napanee.

The address was read by Mrs. Quinn, as follows:—

Moscow, Nov. 18th, 1927.

To Mrs. Eliza Milsap, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milsap and Freada.

Dear Friends,—We, your friends and neighbours of the Shibboburhood in which you have lived for so many years, have met here to-night to spend one more pleasant evening in your old home ere you leave our midst to take up your residence in Napanee.

We can assure you that you will all be much missed in the community life and we would ask you to accept from us these gifts. To Mrs. Eliza Milsap, a Boston Leather Club Bag, and to Mr. and Mrs. Milsap and family an Electric Iron and Grill, as a token of the kind regards of your old friends, and best wishes for a happy life in your new home.

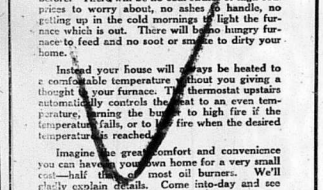

Signed in behalf of your many friends,

MRS. R. G. QUINN.
MRS. MARSHALL KING.
MRS. H. F. BELL.

Mr. Milsap thanked his friends on behalf of his mother and family, for the tokens of remembrance, in a few well chosen words, and the evening was brought to a close by singing: "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds".

ENTERPRISE

Mr. Jack Elder, the popular Scottish comedian, was greeted by a full house in the Community Hall, on Friday night last.—Sometimes, the lights provided by the Women's Institute of our village, actually shed light upon the slippery streets.—A pie social, a quilting bee, and an Irish stew supper were some of the activities indulged in by the people of our village last week.—Wedding bells again! This time Miss Ina Wagar and Andrew Galbraith. The young couple were seen emerging from the parsonage last Thursday morning bearing the smile that won't come off. —The road to Dockrill siding has been well beaten during the past week. The memory of this tragedy will not soon fade away. It is reported that another body, badly charred, was found on Friday.—Not all the turkeys were taken to Napanee market, judging by the loads of fowl being shipped out by Mr. Thompson Wagar, the local produce merchant. —Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fenwick and Mrs. Cornelius Clancy are all quite ill.—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, together with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dopking, had a pleasant visit in Kingston one rainy day last week. —Christmas concerts, Christmas trees, and Christmas ginners, are something to be kept in mind—to be enjoyed at a later date.

Get a Divorce from Cellar Drudgery

With a Just-Rite Oil Burner in your home you'll enjoy a sense of freedom you never knew before. There will be no coal trikes or high coal prices to worry about, no ashes to handle, no getting up in the cold mornings to light the furnace which is out. There will be no hungry furnace to feed and no soot or smoke to dirty your home.

Instead your house will always be heated to a comfortable temperature without you giving a thought to your furnace. The thermostat upstairs automatically controls the heat to an even temperature, turning the burner to high fire if the temperature falls, or to low fire when the desired temperature is reached.

Imagine the great comfort and convenience you can have in your own home for a very small cost—half that of the most oil burners. We'll gladly explain details. Come into-day and see this efficient machine in operation.

VIOLET WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of Violet Institute was held on Friday, Dec. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. William Sager, with a fair representation of the members and some visitors. The president, Mrs. Ross Hogle, played several community songs and the members heartily joined. Several important business items were brought up and discussed, viz.: The advisability of issuing programs for the coming year was dealt with, and the matter left with the executive to draft out material. Several means of raising money were discussed, and it was decided to prepare for a bazaar through the coming months, a play is to be given, and other promising features. It was decided to send Christmas cheer to shut-ins, kiddies and several of the other folk.

Mrs. John MacDonald gave a splendid report of the Kingston Convention and urged members to try to take in some of the sessions next year, assuring them of a bigger and better convention next year, if that could possibly be. Mrs. MacDonald's report certainly was a graphic outline of the convention and well summarized.

We are trying to remember all the sick in the community and shut-ins, and we urge the members to co-operate with the Sick Convener, Mrs. S. G. Hogle, in reporting to her promptly as this is an important branch of our work.

The bbsess in conjunction with the Refreshment Committee, served a dainty lunch, and a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Sager for her kindly hospitality, moved by Mrs. Ross Hogle, and seconded by Mrs. Roy Rose.

The next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Ernest Clarks, and promises to be a very interesting program. Mrs. K. J. Valentine is preparing a paper on "Hot Supper Dishes". Mrs. John Kellar is preparing a paper on "Winter Salads", and Mrs. William Sager is going to tell us of school conditions in the West among the new comers to our country, a subject of which she knows well, having taught and lived in the Canadian West. Roll Call is my New Year's Resolutions". We invite every lady in the community to our meeting the first Thursday of every month.

WEDDING BELLS.

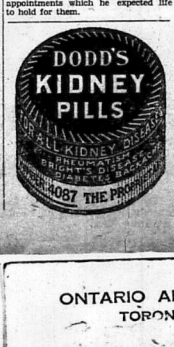

Galbraith—Wagar.

A quiet wedding took place at the United Church Parsonage, Enterprise, on Thursday, December 1st, at 9.30 a.m., when Miss Ina Naomi Wagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Overton Wagar, was united in marriage to Frederick Andrew Galbraith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Galbraith, of Croydon, by Rev. H. A. Bunt, B.A., minister of Enterprise Pastoral charge. The bride looked very becoming in a beautiful gown of pearl grey crepe with satin trimmings. She was attended by her sister, Miss Melissa Wagar, while Mr. Warren Wagar, a brother, acted as best man.

After the ceremony the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Kingston and points west. Upon their return they will take up residence on a farm near Croydon, to which place they will be accompanied by the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

Some people have the queerest ideas about bringing up children. Lord Hastings's father used to train his children: "We're all going to the pantomime on Friday afternoon." When Friday afternoon came and they were all ready dressed to start, he would say: "Take your things off, we're not going to the pantomime."

He believed that in doing this he was preparing them for the many disappointments which he expected life to hold for them.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of Gladwin Allen Loucks, Enterprise, who died on December 11th, 1926, in Toronto General Hospital, from burns received from explosion.

Dearest Gladwin, we are sad and lonely,
Thinking of that sad and fatal day,
We were summoned to your bedside,
But too late, you had passed away.
Gone but not forgotten.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Joseph L. Wagar.

In loving memory of Charlotte Ann, beloved wife of Joseph L. Wagar, who, after a short illness, passed peacefully away to her reward in the Great Beyond, at the old homestead, one mile south-west of Enterprise, on Monday, November 14th, 1927, in her eighty-first year.

She was a daughter of the late Thomas C. Wagar and Maria Dopking, and one of a family of seven daughters and four sons. The deceased was of U. E. L. descent, her grandfather, William Wagar, having come over in company with other Loyalists to settle at Hay Bay, near Sillsville.

The deceased leaves to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, her husband, Joseph L. Wagar, to whom she was married on March 15th, 1870; one son, Thompson Wagar, and one daughter, Mrs. Alfred Jackson, all of Enterprise, Ont. One daughter, Amelia, predeceased her some years ago. Two sisters of the deceased are still living at Enterprise, in the persons of Mrs. Alvin Jackson and Mrs. William Jackson.

Despite most disagreeable weather conditions, the funeral, which was conducted by Rev. H. A. Bunt, B.A., in the United Church, Enterprise, was very largely attended, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the community. Interment took place on Wednesday, Nov. 16th, in the United Church cemetery, Centreville, Ont.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of Andrew Prout, who died Dec. 4th, 1922.

"Oh death, where is thy sting,
Oh grave, where is thy victory."

49ap —His Brother John.

BY-LAW NO. —

By-Law for Borrowing $12,000 Upon Debentures to Pay for the Cost of Repairing and Enlarging the Town Hall

Whereas it is deemed necessary and desirable in the public interest to repair and enlarge the Town Hall in the Town of Napanee, and

Whereas in order thereto, it is necessary to borrow the sum of $12,000.00 on the credit of the Corporation and to issue debentures therefor bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum, which is the amount of the debt to be created by this by-law, and

Whereas it is expedient to make the principal of said debt repayable in yearly sums during the period of twenty years of such amounts respectively that the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in any year shall be equal as nearly as may be to the amount so payable for principal and interest in any of the other years, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise annually the sum of $962.90 during the period of twenty years to pay the said sums of principal and interest as they become due, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Town of Napanee, according to the last revised assessment roll, is the sum of $1,866,474.00, and the existing debenture debt exclusive of local improvement debts secured by special acts, rolls or assessments is the sum of $199,573.06, of which there is no part of the principal or interest in arrears.

Be it therefore enacted by the Corporation of the Town of Napanee, as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Town of Napanee to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to loan the same upon the credit of the Corporation on the issue of debentures hereinafter mentioned the sum of $12,000.00, and to cause the same to be paid in the hands of the Treasurer for the purposes of this by-law.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required , not less than $100.00 each, and not exceeding in the whole the sum of $12,000.00, and the said debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the Corporation and signed by the Mayor, and countersigned by the Treasurer, and shall be used to raise the sum of $12,000.00 by way of loan for the purposes aforesaid.

3. The said debt shall be payable by annual instalments within twenty years, and shall be issued within two years from the passing of this by-law.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum, which interest shall be payable half yearly at the office of the said Treasurer in the said Town of Napanee, and the said debentures shall have interest coupons attached to them, which coupons shall be signed by the Treasurer, whose signature may be printed or lithographed thereon. Such instalments of principal shall be of such amount that with the interest in respect to the debt payable as aforesaid the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in each year shall be as nearly as possible the same and provided that each instalment of principal may be for an even $100.00, $500.00, $1000.00, or multiples thereof, and the annual instalments of principal and interest may differ in amount sufficient to admit thereof.

5. That during the currency of said debentures there shall be raised annually by special rate on all the rateable property of the Town of Napanee the sum of $962.90 for the purpose of paying the amount due in each of the said years for principal and interest in respect of the said debt.

6. The said debentures shall be sold and the proceeds thereof shall be applied in paying and discharging the cost for the repairing and enlarging the Town Hall as aforesaid, and in no other way, and for no other purposes whatever.

7. This by-law shall come into force and take effect after it has been submitted to the electors entitled to vote thereon, and has received the consent of the electors so voting and after a final passing thereof.

Mayor.
Clerk.

First Reading.—December 8th, 1927.
Second Reading.—December 8th, 1927
Third Reading.—

The foregoing is a true copy of a proposed by-law, and if the assent of the electors is obtained to it, it will be taken into consideration by the Council after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication, which said date of the first publication is the 9th day of December, 1927, and any tenant who is entitled to vote and who desires to vote, must deliver to the Clerk not later than the tenth day before the day appointed for taking the vote, the declaration provided for by sub-section 3 of section 265 of the Consolidated Municipal Act, 1922, and

Take further notice that the vote upon said by-law shall be taken on the 2nd day of January, 1928, at the annual Municipal Election, and the Mayor shall attend at the Council Chamber, on Saturday, the 31st day of December, 1927, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, for the purpose of appointing persons to attend at the polling places and at the final summing up of the votes by the Clerk.

Dated December 8th, A.D. 1927.

W. A. GRANGE,
49c Clerk.

THE ELECTRIC EYE.

Burglar Alarms Said to Give Instant Warning.

Two new burglar alarms have recently been perfected by inventors in widely separated corners of the world, says Popular Science Monthly.

Using a new kind of supersensitive electric cell, which responds to the light or shade falling on it, Dr. Robert L. Burt, of the California Institute of Technology, has devised an alarm that is said to give instant warning when anyone enters the room.

Light from a concealed lamp in the corner is reflected about the room by mirrors, making a network of beams, all of which end upon a single photo-electric cell. Should an intruder walk in front of any beam, interrupting it for a second, even this slight change in the total amount of light falling upon the sensitive cell will release the mechanism that rings the alarm. The bright rays of an intruder's flashlight will also operate the cell.

The inventor says the system can be made to work on a beam of ultraviolet light, which would make the protecting network of rays invisible to the person breaking in.

A German inventor has perfected an alarm which is declared to be practically infallible and also economical by applying two recently-discovered electrophysical principles. The alarm is so sensitive that merely touching the object guarded, or perhaps even the approach of an intruder, will set it off.

The first principle is that of "premagnetizing," which causes the metal core of an electro-magnet after being magnetized by a powerful current to maintain its magnetism as long as a much lighter current is passed through the coil.

The second principle is that a good conductor, such as metal, can be made to adhere to a poor conductor, such as wood, by maintaining a weak electric current between them.

Combining the two, the inventor made a device which can be wired to any valuable object and operated by a single flashlight. When the object or any part of the wiring is touched, a short circuit is caused. This demagnetizes the core and trips an alarm.

IMPROVING YOUR FIGURE.

Whether You're Too Fat or Too Thin, Diet Is the Remedy.

Whatever is your particular figure trouble, the doctors will tell you that the cure lies in one word—diet, says a writer in Answers. As a result of much study and investigation, the medical profession now declares that "diet is the remedy for thinness, fatness, worry, bad temper, and half the illness in the country."

Instead of spending hard-earned money on drugs and treatments, you should give more thought to what you eat.

Here are some suggestions, based on exhaustive tests:

To get thin eat grape-fruit, eggs, fish, salads, and no sugar, cream, or butter, and very little bread or potatoes.

To get fat eat oranges, porridge, bacon and eggs, cocoa, milk and cream (a glass in the morning, mixed) baked apples with cream, soup, steak, buttered spinach, and potatoes.

These hints will indicate what sort of meal you should eat if you suffer from too much fat or too little.

As an example of how our diet affects temper, the experience of Dr. Forbes Ross may be mentioned. He noticed, when visiting an asylum, that the inmates always showed a tendency to become violent on Thursdays. He examined the menu for that day, cut out some meat extract, and the tendency disappeared at once.

Generally speaking, the human body requires more pulse food (meat, peas, beans, etc.) in winter than in summer. An ideal light lunch for, say, September for those who do not wish to put on weight would be grape-fruit, cheese, bread, and green salad, followed by fruit salad and perhaps a little cream.

Correct feeding will not only improve your health. It also has the virtue of reducing the amount spent on food, for, except in the case of those who wish to get fat, the rich foods, that are usually the dearest, are not necessary to the human body except in small quantities.

Logs That Will Burn.

Even in these days of electric radiators and gas fires many people like to lay in a store of logs before winter comes.

Ash logs are perhaps the best of the many different kinds that may be got; green or dry they kindle quickly into a hot, brightly burning fire.

Well seasoned oak is also a splendid fuel: it has the merit of burning a long time. The Yule logs of olden days, which burned for days and nights, were always of seasoned oak.

Sycamore, birch, beech, and hornbeam have all great heating properties, and the expert wood fire maker will wax enthusiastic over hawthorn, root and branch.

Although firs burn freely and quickly produce heat, they are dangerous because of the sparks they send out. Their twigs, however, are useful for kindling. Elm, on the other hand, is slow to kindle and difficult to keep alight.

Among the luxury woods are cedar, which gives off a delicious smell when burning, and yew: seasoned yew will burn almost like coal.

He Knew the Reason Why.

"If I were you I'd be boss in my own home, or know the reason why," exclaimed the bachelor to his married friend.

"Yes, exactly," said the married man. "I know the reason why!"

Mr. Chas. Gausden has left for the west, where he expects to spend some time visiting friends.—Miss Dorothy Sharp is improving slowly, after her severe illness of typhoid fever. — Mrs. Burley and Mrs. Fralick were recent visitors at Mrs. J. F. Lake's. — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mills spent the week-end at Mr. A. Mills'. — Mrs. Henwood spent a few days at Geo. Fralick's. —Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lake and children visited Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Garrison on Sunday.—The closing of Union Cheese Factory has meant the ceasing of the daily noon whistle, which Mr. Babcock never failed to blow, and which proved such a convenience to the busy housewife in calling her family to dinner.

A splendid array of Three Flower Sets, containing, for example, compact, perfume and powder—and dozens of other combinations in beautiful silk-lined boxes, ranging in prices from $1.50 to $10.00, at Wallace's.

Some people have the queerest ideas about bringing up children. Lord Hardinge's father used to say to his children: "We're all going to the pantomime on Friday afternoon." When Friday afternoon came and they were all ready dressed to start, he would say: "Take your things off, we're not going to the pantomime." He believed that in doing this he was preparing them for the many disappointments which he expected life to hold for them.

"What was the big scandal at the fancy dress party last night?"
"An artist's model arrived."
"Well?"
"She was wearing her business suit."

—As a farewell before leaving for their new home in Oshawa, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th, the Misses Leamy entertained Mrs. T. Manion and daughter, Frances, to tea, and surprised them by presenting them with a beautiful sandwich tray and prayer book. They also received a beautiful pair of linen pillow slips and towels from Mrs. Marsh and Helen. Mrs. Manion expressed her gratitude in a few well chosen words.

—Conway Women's Institute will hold its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Thos. Gurren. It will be an open meeting for all, and in the evening. After the routine business the Reeve of the Township will address the meeting on Municipal matters; Miss D. Merritt will give an address on "Charter Building"; and there will be readings and music. Members will contribute for this meeting "home remedies", candy, and small articles to catch the eye at this time of the year. These donations will be "for sale" that same evening to help raise funds to meet our expenses. Meeting will be held on Dec. 13th, at 7 sharp. Roll Call—a humorous speech.

SILLSVILLE W.M.S.

The December meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. L. Hough, on Tuesday, December 6th, at 2.30 p.m. Our President, Mrs. Harold Hough, was in charge. Opening hymn 64, was followed by prayer by members. Scripture lesson from Luke II., 8-20.

Mrs. Charters gave in her usual convincing way, a paper on "Tithing". Mrs. Plant, who has consented to take up the Study Book, "New Paths for Old Purposes", for the year, gave us the opening chapters, showing the Orient to be looking to us to demonstrate in our dealings with one another and with them the Christianity we are trying to spread. The mite boxes were opened. Our allocation for the year ending Dec. 31st, has been attained. Our Pastor gave a short talk, showing that even in nearby countries persons may be found who have no knowledge of a Saviour.

The election of officers resulted in all but our President, who feels she cannot accept the position again, being returned to office. A president is to be chosen at the next meeting, Jan. 5th, at the home of Mrs. Harold Hough.

Give your boy or girl a 2 A Brownie Camera for Xmas. It will be the most cherished gift of all. Wallace's, Kodak agents.

The NEW CAR

INTRODUCING A FINE CAR IN THE LIGHT CAR FIELD

THIS entirely new car surpasses the accepted standards of light car accomplishment; sweeps aside all boundaries of price class; establishes a new standard of acceleration, speed, power and smoothness. Heretofore the following characteristics have been combined only in expensive cars.

Speed—better than a mile a minute.

Acceleration—5 to 25 miles per hour in high gear in 8½ seconds.

Endurance—this car will travel all day at 50 miles per hour without strain on motor or chassis.

Riding comfort—flexible springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers permit comfortable travel at high speed over the roughest road.

Roadability—this car's low center of gravity holds it snugly to the road on an unbanked turn even at high speed.

Power—in deep, loose sand with the front wheels cramped and from a dead stop, the car will turn in a tight circle, forward or reverse, without effort.

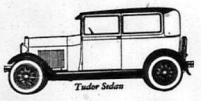

Effective braking—the instant response of mechanical, four-wheel brakes with dual control ensures positive braking for any emergency.

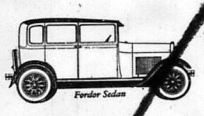

Positive steering control—A relaxed hand on the steering wheel will hold the car steady in loose sand and over bumpy roads. Turning radius 17 ft.

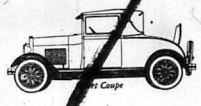

Economy—30 miles per gallon of gasoline, plus the well known economics of Ford car maintenance.

Appearance—coach work of pleasing proportions, tastefully finished in an extensive range of color combinations of durable semi-lacquer.

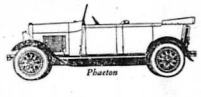

Quietness—Vibration in the engine is practically negligible. New final drive is exceptionally quiet. Double-ply anti-squeak type, asphalium treated fabric and hardwood blocks between body and frame minimize body noises.

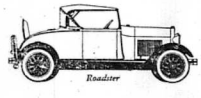

Tudor Sedan

Fordor Sedan

Coupe

Canpe

Phaeton

Roadster

Engine—At 2200 revolutions per minute the new four cylinder engine develops 40 H. P. This revolution speed is low for such power and sets an entirely new standard for light car speed and acceleration, enduring quality and operating economy.

Engine lubrication—Combination of pump, splash and gravity feed thoroughly lubricates all frictional surfaces regardless of road grades.

Cooling system—Combination water pump and Ford thermo-syphon system doubly insures ample radiation. Engine warms up quickly but will not overheat.

Electrical system—The new Ford designed distributor is placed on top of engine permitting direct connection to spark plugs by means of short bronze bands. The single coil is protected by a waterproof case. Co-incidental lock on ignition circuit is theft proof. The powerful starting motor and dependable generator are both of Ford design.

Clutch and transmission—Patterned after the famous Lincoln, these units give an operating ease never before found in moderate priced cars. The nine plate multiple dry disc clutch and the selective transmission are designed to make shifting of gears remarkably easy and simple. Getaway, unexcelled by any car made today, is just one of the many advantages. Three speeds forward and one reverse. All gears are made of heat-treated chrome alloy steel. The only light car in which transmission shafts are mounted on ball and roller bearings.

Rear Axle—The axle shaft itself carries no weight as the ¾ floating principle places the weight of the car on the axle housing. Flexible roller bearings minimize rear wheel friction. A Torque Tube drive and spiral bevel gear are additional features.

Springs—Transverse semi-elliptic design. Relieved of all driving strain, they perform the sole function of cushioning road shocks. The transverse type of spring helps to prevent a large amount of frame distortion, makes four-wheel brake operation more efficient, gives easier steering and reduces unsprung weight.

Chassis lubrication—Alemite-Zerk pressure system.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Little Leslie was very fond of drawing and painting. Directly he returned home from school out would come his pencils and colour-box and another great work would be commenced.

One evening his mother noticed an unusual kind of sketch and asked her son what he was drawing.

"Heaven," answered Leslie.

"Gracious, child!" gasped his mother in a shocked voice. "You mustn't do that. Nobody knows what heaven looks like!"

"They will, though," returned the youthful artist — "they will when I get this finished."

Excellent for Croupy Children. — When a child is suffering with croup it is a good plan to use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It reduces the inflammation and loosens the phlegm giving speedy relief to the little sufferer. It is equally reliable for sore throat and chest, earache, rheumatic pains, cuts, bruises and sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is regarded by many thousands as an indispensable of the family medicine chest.

A man went to a South African newspaper office and complained that his death had been announced erroneously.

"Well," said the Editor, "we never contradict anything we have published, but I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll put you in the Births column to-morrow and give you a fresh start."

The cheapness of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator puts it within reach of all, and it can be got at any druggist's.

Powerful Medicine. — The healing properties in six essential oils are concentrated in every bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, forming one of the most beneficial liniments ever offered to the use of man. Many can testify as to its power in allaying pain, and many more cancertify that they owe their health to it. Its wonderful powers is not expressed by the small price at which it sells.

The small boy had been taken for a motor ride by a friend of the family. On his return his mother said to him, "Did you thank Mr. Jones for taking you for a ride?" There was no answer. The mother repeated her question, but still there was no answer. "Jimmie," she said, "did you hear me? Did you thank Mr. Jones for taking you for a ride?" Yes," whispered Jimmie, "but he told me not to mention it."

Drives Asthma Like Magic. The immediate help from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems like magic. Nevertheless it is only a natural remedy used in a natural way. The smoke or vapor, reaching the most remote passage of the affected tubes, brushes aside the trouble and opens a way for fresh air to enter. It is sold by dealers throughout the land.

The village football team had sent a challenge to a rival eleven and received a reply from the secretary of the other team accepting, and adding "We hope you will give us a quid pro quo."

After a committee meeting had been held, the following answer was sent: "Sir,—We shall send the hat round as usual, but we can't guarantee the sum you mention."

"What is that new building you have put up on the hill there?" the visitor asked the farmer.

"Well," replied the farmer, "if I find a tenant for it, it's a bungalow; if I don't, it's a barn."

No man or woman should hobble painfully about because of corns when so certain a relief is at hand as Holloway's Corn Remover.

Customer (missing his favorite waiter)—"Where's Jules to-day?"

Waiter—"He's gone, sir."

"Gone! "Do you mean he's defunct?"

"Yes, sir — and with everything 'e could lay 'is 'ands on!"

Use Miller's Worm Powders and the battle against worms is won. These powders correct the morbid conditions of the stomach which nourish worms, and these destructive parasites cannot exist after they come in contact with the medicine. The worms are speedily evacuated with other refuse from the bowels. Soundness is imparted to the organs and the health of the child steadily improves.
